Don't Add to Our Growing Landfills

Find another use for your old shower curtain

When you replace your shower curtain with a bath enclosure, consider other uses for your old curtain before you throw it in the trash.

Finding another use for your PVC shower curtain can help keep dangerous chemicals and toxins out of our landfills and precious water resources.

Since the recycling of PVC can be a difficult and dangerous proposition, there are other uses for your shower curtain that can prevent its addition to a landfill. Some of them include:

- ◆ Use as a tarp to cover a grill or wood stored outside
- ◆ Cover a table while kids are painting or drawing for easy clean-up
- ◆ Line the trunk of your car for transportation of dirty items
- ◆ Cover outdoor plants when the temperature drops to freezing
- ◆ Use as a drop cloth or for covering furniture when painting

In addition to these uses, let your imagination go and find more uses for that old shower curtain. You'll be glad you played a part in keeping dangerous toxins out of your local landfill.
